

"Patient But Firm" Policy Set By Byrnes Toward USSR

By ALEX SINGLETON
Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes pointed the United States along a "patient but firm" foreign policy course with Russia today, declaring that this country will neither yield to all demands of other nations nor expect them to yield to all of ours.

Voicing concern over "the continued if not increasing tension between us and the Soviet Union," Byrnes urged rejection of the thought that delays in achieving peace "make armed conflict inevitable."

"It is entirely possible," he said in a radio report last night on the Paris conference, "that the failure or inability of the Soviet leaders to rid themselves of that belief lies at the very root of our difficulties."

Aimed At Moscow
His address, obviously aimed at Moscow as well as his home audience, acknowledged Byrnes' distress over war talk which is "threatening the economic recovery of Europe," but affirmed his hope that a just peace can be attained with out one-sided concessions.

Byrnes said this nation will stand "irrevocably" behind the "right of every people to organize their economic and political destiny through the freest possible expression of their collective will."

He made it plain that his goal is cooperation with the U.S.S.R.—But not continued concessions.

Must Cooperate
"We must be willing to cooperate with one another—veto or no veto—to defend, with force if necessary, the principles and purposes of the charter of the United Nations," he said.

An apparent reference to the debate which stormed up over Henry A. Wallace's criticism of the administration's policy toward Russia came in Byrnes' declaration:

"In following those policies we have been criticized at times for being too 'soft' and at times for being too tough. I dislike both terms. Neither describes our earnest efforts to be patient but firm."

SCHEDULES TWO MEETINGS

Only two meetings are scheduled by Miss Mildred Adams, county home economics representative, for next week. They are as follows: Tuesday, 7:30 p. m., New Snyder, adult organization, Mrs. Iva Snyder, Thursday, 7:30 p. m., Granite, adult clothing, Mrs. William Signor.

DIRECTORS OF HOSPITAL PLAN NEW ADDITION FOR DEEP X-RAY

With reasonably good prospects that the Musselman Memorial annex building will be completed soon after the first of the year, directors of the Warner hospital, at their meeting Friday evening, announced that architectural studies are now in progress for the erection of a new addition to house the deep therapy x-ray department and for such remodeling to the original hospital building as is necessary to unite the two structures into one co-ordinated unit.

Attorney Franklin R. Bigham, reporting as chairman of a special committee, announced the engagement of Architect John B. Hamme to prepare drawings and plans for the new x-ray building and for required changes in the original hospital building.

The directors stated that work on the x-ray structure would be pushed as rapidly as possible so as to make deep x-ray therapy available for the people of Adams county at the earliest possible date.

Appoint Doctor Boyer

Announcement was made of the appointment of Dr. J. Lott Boyer, of Arendtsville, as permanent head of the x-ray department. Doctor Boyer, who has directed the x-ray department for the last three years while taking advanced work in x-ray therapy at University of Pennsylvania under Dr. Pendergrass, one of the leading figures in the x-ray field, completed his course and was awarded his fellowship early this month. In announcing Dr. Boyer's appointment, the board made this statement:—

"Dr. Boyer turned down several tempting offers from larger cities, preferring to return to the Warner hospital. We are gratified with his acceptance for it assures Adams (Please Turn to Page 8)"

Here And There

News Collected At Random

Monday, October 31, is APPLE DAY. . . October 26 to November 2 has been proclaimed APPL' WEEK. . . and from October 24 through October 26 the Gettysburg National Bank will hold its fifteenth annual Apple Show. These three occasions are especially significant to Adams County, perhaps the largest apple producing country in the world.

In proclaiming Apple Week, the International Apple Association, published a two-color proclamation which has been widely distributed throughout the country.

The introduction, especially interesting, follows:

"Proclamation of the King. To all who grow, handle, or consume apples. Greetings.

"To the wind and the rain, the air and the sun, the soil and all that lives therein—microbes that prepare plant food and enzymes which fit it for use, to the apple tree itself, and all the plants which live in the soil and work for its safeguarding and growth—To these and their subtle workings, both in the dark fastnesses of the soil and in their metabolism in the leaves and branches above ground, both in sunlight and in the recesses of the night, to all, while failing to comprehend the magnitude of the undertaking, we express our appreciation and thanks—For the result of the labor is that Great Gift to man—APPLE."

But that isn't all. The proclamation further declares:

"To Presidents and Kings, Governors of States, Mayors of Cities or Towns, we request that you Proclaim Apple Week as a (Please Turn to Page 2)"

Dr. Chester N. Gitt Moves Dental Office

Dr. Chester N. Gitt, a dentist in Gettysburg for the last 30 years, today announced that he has moved his office from the Masonic building, center square, where he has been located since opening practice here, to 205 Baltimore street.

With him in his new office is his son-in-law, a former Army captain, Granville Schultz, who served as a dental officer with the army in the Burma-China-India theater and in the United States. Doctor Schultz was recently discharged from the service. He is a graduate of the University of Buffalo Dental school.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy and cooler today; fair and cool tonight and Sunday.

Warns Of Too Early Halloween Stunts

Burgess C. A. Heiges issued a stiff warning today against premature Halloween pranks in the borough after receiving complaints from Broadway residents that garbage cans have been overturned and other property disturbed by pranks during the last few nights.

While local youngsters will be permitted Halloween celebration at the proper time—as long as it does not involve property damage or removal of personal danger to town residents—the burgess declared he has instructed police not to put up with current mischief in the name of Halloween.

LT. B. R. DRUM IS DECORATED FOR BRAVERY

Lt. Burton R. Drum, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Drum, West Lincoln avenue, was presented with the navy air medal for meritorious action at a ceremony held Thursday at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Drum, himself a retired naval lieutenant with 32 years of service including World Wars 1 and 2, was present when the medal was given his son on a presidential citation. The citation, signed for the president of the United States by James Forrester, secretary of navy, read: "For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as pilot of a torpedo bomber in Composite Squadron 78 attached to the U. S. S. Saginaw Bay during operations against enemy Japanese forces at Lingayen Gulf, Philippine Islands from January 2 through 20, 1945.

"Participating in numerous daring reconnaissance and convoy and air coverage missions during this period, Lieutenant Drum rendered gallant service, and by his cool courage and outstanding skill in the face of grave hazards including hostile aerial opposition contributed materially to the success of his squadron in the fulfillment of each perilous mission.

"His unwavering devotion to duty throughout reflects the highest credit upon Lieutenant Drum and the U. S. Naval Service."

Lieutenant Drum, two other naval officers and the widow of a naval officer who received her husband's decoration, were presented with awards by Admiral G. B. Davis, commanding officer of the Potomac River Command, at the Washington ceremony.

Lieutenant Drum, who entered naval pilot training at the beginning of World War II, is married and now resides with his wife and daughter at Washington.

APPLES ARE PLENTIFUL AT MARKET TODAY

Apples were at their best on the Farmers Market today and numerous varieties were offered in large quantities. Stark Delicious, Jonathan, Winesap and Stayman sold mostly for $2.50 per bushel. York Imperials and Rome Beauties brought $2.25 a bushel. In smaller quantities, they sold mostly for 20 cents a quarter peck.

There was also plenty of cider to be had today, with the price remaining the same as a week ago, 65 cents a gallon.

Chickens were still 65 cents a pound, with the exception of capons, for which 68 cents a pound was asked, but eggs went up again, the top price today being 70 cents. Some sold lower at 66 and 68 cents.

Other Prices Held

Cup cheese re-appeared on the market, the price depending upon the size of the container. Small cups were five cents. Mush brought ten cents a pound.

Prices on most other offerings remained unchanged. Potatoes were 20 cents a quart box, and 35 cents a half peck. Endive was ten cents a stalk, celery ten to 20 cents a stalk, eggplant five to ten cents each and cabbage five cents a pound. Watercress sold for ten cents a quart box.

Other prices were: pumpkins, five cents up, depending on size; lima beans, 40 cents a pint; parsley, five cents a bunch; peppers, five to ten cents; cauliflower, ten to 20 cents and up; lettuce, 15 cents a box; turnips, ten cents a quart; potato salad, 20 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; sweet cream, 35 cents a pint.

There was a profusion of fall flowers for sale today at various prices according to variety and size of bunch.

MISS ROYER TO SING

Miss Esther Royer of Gettysburg college will entertain the members of the Gettysburg Lions club with a group of solos at the club's weekly dinner meeting Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Shetter House. President Milton R. Rummel will preside.

POLICE PRAISE PROPER SCHOOL PATROL WORK

State Police Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff today reminded some members of the school safety patrols that while he appreciates their enthusiasm for their jobs they still are not police officers authorized to direct auto traffic.

State Policeman George Ackerson of the local sub-station who has been visiting the county's schools to talk to the children on traffic safety and safety patrols has discovered splendid work being performed by the safety patrol members in the 35 schools he has visited so far. But he has also heard of some patrol members who have exceeded their duties by directing auto traffic, the Sergeant said.

"The purpose of the school safety patrols is to assist in educating children on how to cross a street," Sergeant Duhrkoff pointed out. "This purpose is attained by having patrols direct the children and not the traffic. Attempts at the control of auto traffic by safety patrols are prohibited by law, since it is distinctly a police function requiring adult judgment.

Should Stay On Curb

"The patrol member should stand on the curb and not on the street and should hold back the children with his flag until he sees a lull in traffic. Then, determining that it is safe for the school kiddies to go across, he permits them to do so, holding his flag out at a right angle to the curb.

"In that way he is carrying out his function of aiding the children in crossing the street. And in addition his flag acts as a reminder to a motorist approaching a group of children who are crossing the street of the obligation of the motorist to have under the law to respect the rights and safety of pedestrians at cross-walks.

"When the street is wide or traffic heavy there should be two patrol boys at a crossing. One operates on the side from which the children (Please Turn to Page 7)"

SUV PLANS TWO EXERCISES HERE ON NOVEMBER 16

Plans for the observance of 83rd anniversary of the delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg address here and for dedication of a new flag pole at the Warner hospital were outlined Friday evening at the regular meeting of the local Sons of Union Veterans camp.

Both programs will be held Saturday, November 16, starting at 2 o'clock with services in the National cemetery.

Dr. Norman S. Wolf, Fairfield, will be the speaker at the Lincoln speech celebration with P. J. Kammerer, Newville, Lincoln impersonator, scheduled to recite the "Gettysburg Address." A wreath will be placed on the grave of an unknown soldier. The program will be conducted at the National monument.

Services Monday For J. A. Bowling

Funeral services for James Albert Bowling, 76, Richmond, Va., who died there Thursday evening of a heart attack will be held Monday morning with a requiem mass at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. Fr. Saubelle officiating. Interment in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the Allison funeral home, Emmitsburg, between 7 and 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

Bob Munley, Paralyzed In Auto Accident, Learning To Walk; Looks To Xmas Holidays

Aerial Gunner Robert J. Munley, 21-year old son of Dr. and Mrs. James J. Munley, West Lincoln avenue, paralyzed from the waist down in an automobile accident last November 8, is learning to walk again . . . all in hopes of spending the Christmas holidays at his home here.

Young Munley, who will observe his 22nd birthday anniversary next January 22, served 16 months overseas and flew 28 missions with the U. S. Navy Air Corps, most of which were in the Aleutians.

Last November while stationed at a Naval base near Seattle young Munley was injured in an automobile accident. He suffered a severed spine. After receiving treatment in a government hospital near Seattle he was transferred to the Corona Naval Hospital, Corona, California, where he has since been under the care of Navy specialists.

Recently he was fitted with steel braces, both legs being hopelessly paralyzed and given instructions on how to walk. Latest reports reveal that he has managed 75 steps unassisted. If he continues to improve he has hopes of being transferred to an eastern Navy hospital and a likely medical leave with his parents over the Christmas holidays. Later he plans to study dentistry.

His brother, James J. Munley, Jr., a veteran of four and one-half years' service, 28 months overseas with the 4th Armored Division, is studying law at Miami University, Florida. He is a graduate of Gettysburg college.

Local Man Held For Disorderly Conduct

A Gettysburg man who police say was using a pair of field glasses to peep into windows of a house on Steinwehr avenue Friday night, was in jail today charged with disorderly conduct after his arrest at 10:45 p. m. by Borough Police Officers Clark W. Staley, Paul B. Shearer and Kenneth Tawney. He was booked as William Little, 44, of South Washington street.

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said today he received a telephone call that there was a prowler in the Steinwehr avenue home. They arrested Little nearby. A woman resident of the house told police she had seen a man across the street. A few minutes later when she heard a noise downstairs, she routed the intruder with a pair of shears and called the officers.

No time has been set for a hearing.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL CONDUCTS RADIO PROGRAM

When early evening radio listeners tune in their sets to Station WCAO, Baltimore, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and listen to the program, "Music Preferred," the voice they hear on the commercials is that of a former Gettysburg resident, Mrs. Marion Wise, whose mother, Mrs. Loretta Dietrick, is house mother at Stevens Hall on the college campus here.

Mrs. Wise, or Marion May, as she is known on the radio, taking her name from the May company, also broadcasts at 6:45 p. m. each Sunday from Station WBAL, Baltimore, on the Sunday evening "Music Preferred" program with Announcer Gahlan Fram. Marion May does the commercials and Fram the vocalizing. Incidentally, she also writes her own scripts.

Starts New Program

Beginning next Monday afternoon, October 21, she will start a new program, "Fashions from Paris." It will be broadcast from Johnson's Mecca, and Miss May will select the best dressed woman in the tea room and describe her outfit. This feature will go on the air at 3 p. m. each Monday, from WCAO.

Mrs. Wise, who attended Gettysburg high school, got her start in radio at Uniontown, Pa., eight years ago. She answered an advertisement for an audition in connection with the "Little Theatre of the Air," was selected and played the leading role on this program. A year later she switched over to commercials at the Uniontown station, and subsequently went to Washington, where she broadcast over one of the capital stations, before going to Baltimore.

Mrs. Wise has one daughter, ten years of age, and a sister, Mrs. Richard Swope, living in Harrisburg.

COUNTY SHARE OF MOTOR FUND IS $17,008.91

Municipal subdivisions in Adams county are eligible to receive $17,008.91 as their December 1 allocation from the Pennsylvania motor fund under terms of legislation approved by Governor Edward Martin. Requisitions for the final quarterly payment of 1946 are now being prepared by the Department of Highways under whose jurisdiction the money is expended by the local governmental units.

The money is being paid to cities, boroughs and first and second class townships as their share of the tax levied on motor vehicle gasoline consumption. Local governmental units may expend this money for street, bridge and road maintenance or construction.

NEW INDUSTRY MAY MOVE INTO FACTORY NOV. 15

John R. Gaston, President of the Inductive Equipment Corporation, Gettysburg's newest industry, announced today that he expects to move his office staff into their new quarters in the almost-completed plant at "Quarry Park," familiarly known as the brick yard, on or about November 1.

Mr. Gaston said that workmen were now putting the "finishing touches" to the new offices at the plant and every indication pointed to their being ready for occupancy within two weeks.

He also announced that he expected to occupy the entire new plant about the middle of November, moving his present roster of workers from several buildings scattered over town to the new factory at that time.

At the present there are approximately 40 employees on the payroll with eleven sales representatives in Newark, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Los Angeles and Jacksonville. One representative in New York is in charge of exports.

May Double Force

President Gaston said that the company has current orders totaling approximately $600,000 and that close to a million dollars in backlog orders are subject to acceptance by the local firm.

When the new factory is occupied, some time next month, Mr. Gaston said that he will employ approximately 60 men and women, all local residents. He announced that he is confident that he will double the force by the end of the year.

Delay in completing the new building was attributed to a shortage of materials which was generally reflected throughout the country but present indications are that the new factory will be ready for occupancy within a month.

The company, Mr. Gaston said, has been reluctant to set up a large backlog of orders and has only accepted those which the corporation felt reasonably sure of filling within the allotted time. He said that several hundred thousand dollars in orders are now being given consideration by the firm which, if accepted, will assure full-time operation for some time with many additional orders awaiting local acceptance.

STUDENTS GIVE EARNINGS FOR WAR MEMORIAL

Eighteen boys from the senior and junior classes of the East Berlin high school recently donated proceeds from one day's apple picking to the Living Memorial fund. Clark Berkeimer, senior, in nine and one-half hours picked 145 bushels of York Imperials in the E. B. Romig orchard near Arendtsville, while Paul Bassett, Gene Swartz, Bill Frey and Glenn Mummert, all seniors, picked more than 100 bushels each. Marlin Chronister, Eugene Gruver, Ervin Hamme, Bill Hoover, Dale King, Dean McCauslin, Fred Myers, Charles Roland, Roy Trimmer and Stewart Wrights, seniors; Paul Leas, Herbert Harlaub, Pete Gordon, juniors, assisted the former group to contribute $168.65 to the fund.

The recently organized Future Homemakers of America club has selected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Nancy Morris; vice president, Ethel Myers; secretary, Marian Weaver; treasurer, Marian Fissel; historian, Peggy Moul; reporter, Helena Young, Mrs. Bernice Staley, home economics teacher, is the adviser.

Start Play Rehearsals

Rehearsals have begun for the senior play, "Full of Youth," by Wilbur Braun, a three-act farce-comedy.

The characters selected follow: "Mrs. Baynes," owner of "Jolly Inn," Peggy Ann Moul; "Sonny Baynes," her ambitious girl-hating son, Wayne (Please Turn to Page 7)

Bishop Leech At Littlestown Monday

Services will be held in St. Aloysius' Catholic church, Littlestown, this evening at 7:30 p. m. Masses on Sunday will be at 7:30 a. m. and 10 a. m. The week's mission which has been conducted by Rev. Hubert Sweeney, a Passionist missionary priest from the Passionist community in New Jersey, will be brought to a close at the Sunday evening service at 7 p. m. The Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Harrisburg, will confer the Sacrament of Confirmation in St. Aloysius' church Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The confirmation class and the sponsors will meet Sunday at 3:30 p. m. for practice.

"Christian Home" Service On Sunday

Christian Home Sunday will be observed at the Sunday morning service in the Presbyterian church here with the Rev. Robert M. Hunt in charge of the service. New members will be received and there will be baptism of infants.

A family Bible will be presented to the oldest member of the largest family in attendance. Another family Bible will be given to the youngest mother present. Elder S. Gray Bigham will make the presentations.

In the Sunday school the "B1 Class" for young married couples whose ages total 81 years or less will hold its opening session with the pastor as teacher.

MISSIONARY CITES NEEDS OF CHINA TODAY

"China's greatest need today is for more leaders of Christian character," Miss Margaret Barnes, returned Presbyterian missionary to China, told the Women's Missionary society of the Carlisle Presbytery at its afternoon session in the local Presbyterian church Friday.

She emphasized the fact that the Church of Christ in China is a "mature organization that is able to plan, direct and carry on the work of the Christian church in that country." While the Chinese Christians are willing and able to take the responsibility of leadership "they need our help, personnel, money, prayers and Christian example," she asserted.

Miss Barnes, who was in China before the war and spent a year and a half under guard at her mission post and then more than two and a half years in an internment camp, said China is now in almost a worse plight than during the war. She stressed the need for relief, rehabilitation and restoration work there.

Liberated Year Ago

She told briefly of incidents in her war experiences and of the liberation of her camp by paratroopers a few days after the end of the war. She left the camp a year ago this week, she told the group. During the war the camp in which she was held received one shipment of Red Cross supplies that was greatly appreciated as a symbol of the willingness and efforts of the people of this country to aid them.

"It was good for us who have worked and will work again in China to be hungry and cold and isolated for we know that people in the villages of China experience that kind of life all the time," she said. She added that Chinese Christians "were able not to learn to hate the Japanese during the war," and that after the war there were no Chinese reprisals on their former conquerors who had gone to great lengths to humiliate the whites in the eyes of the Chinese.

"The spirit of the Chinese Christians has not been crushed but they have a sense of invincible conquest," she added.

Friday's meeting which was attended by nearly 100 women from this section of the state was one of a series for this area.

SERVED IN SAME UNIT AT BELVOIR AS SGT. STUBBS

A Gettysburg soldier who was enlisted late in July by Sgt. Walter Stubbs, local recruiting officer, has returned to town to tell the sergeant that he and two other Adams countians recruited at the same time served their basic training in the engineers in the same company of the same barracks where Sergeant Stubbs was stationed during the war.

The local soldier is Harry W. Hockey, son of Roy W. Hockey, 226 York street, who is home on a seven-day delay enroute to California, from which he will be shipped to Japan.

Hockey, along with Winfield W. Dubs, son of Mrs. Jacob W. Dubs, 143 Hanover street and Dean S. Stultz, son of Merle Stultz, 349 Hanover street, served in Company C of the 4th Battalion at the Engineer Train Center, Fort Belvoir. All were placed in the barracks in which Sergeant Stubbs was located while a cadetman at Belvoir during the war. All three qualified as sharpshooters with the M-1 rifle during their training period. Dubs and Stultz have continued on at another engineer school while Hockey is being shipped to Japan.

SAMUEL J. DIEHL TAKES LIFE BY HANGING FRIDAY

Samuel J. Diehl, 56, Lincolnway West, Abbottstown, was found dead hanging in the barn loft at his home Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, who investigated, listed death as suicide by hanging.

Mr. Diehl had been in ill health for some time and was reported as "despondent." Friday he visited his physician and when he disappeared during the afternoon a search was begun which resulted in his wife finding his body. Dr. Wilbur Miller, New Oxford, was summoned and cut the body down, after which Doctor Crist was notified.

Services Monday

The deceased was a son of the late William A. and Ella (Eyster) Diehl. He was a member of St. John's Lutheran church, Abbottstown.

Surviving are his widow, the former Bessie Chronister; four children, Miss Althea Diehl, 22 York street; Mrs. George Yealy, Hanover; William Arthur and Dean, both at home; one grandchild; two brothers, Arthur and Curvin, both of Detroit, Mich.; and four sisters, Miss Merle Diehl, Hanover; Mrs. Etta Holtry, New Oxford; Mrs. Clifford Blackwell and Mrs. William Edwards, both of Chester.

Funeral services Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Hanover, conducted by the Rev. Snyder Alleman. Interment in the New Oxford cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

ANNUAL SCHOOL FOR SS WORKERS TO OPEN MONDAY

The annual sessions of the Adams County School of Christian Education will open Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. James Lutheran church and will continue each Monday evening through November 25. Two-hour sessions will be held each evening.

Four leadership courses will be offered with one unit of credit from the International Council of Religious Education to be received by students who do assigned work, recite, take examinations and complete 10 hours' work.

Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, member of the faculty of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the instructor for the course in "Personal Religious Living." The course will deal with habits of worship, meditation and other religious practices that a person who is trying to live a Christian life should follow.

Other Courses

Modern translations of the Bible with emphasis on the Revised Standard version of the New Testament will be dealt with in a course on "How the Bible Came to Be" which will be taught by Dr. W. C. Waltemyer, member of the faculty of Gettysburg college.

"Guiding Children in Christian Growth" is the title of a course to be given by Mrs. C. C. Culp of St. James Lutheran church. It will present "the best methods to be used by those who are responsible for guiding the Christian growth of children."

A student of the gospel of John, from which the International Sunday School lessons for the first quarter of 1947 will be taken, will be presented as the school's fourth course. The teacher will be the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Presbyterian church here.

DUTTERA - FEISER WEDDING TODAY

Miss Ruth Pauline Feiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Feiser, New Oxford, became the bride of John Walter Dutterra, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dutterra, Guilford, today at 12 o'clock noon at the First Lutheran church, New Oxford. In the presence of the immediate families, the Rev. George E. Sheaffer performed the double ring ceremony.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Dutterra, sister of the bridegroom. Fred F. Feiser, brother of the bride, served as best man. The bride wore an aqua dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bride's jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. The maid of honor wore a beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses. The church was decorated with fall flowers.

The bride is a graduate of the New Oxford high school and Thompson (Please Turn to Page 7)

U.S., YUGOSLAVIA LOCK HORNS ON 'SLAVE' CHARGES

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The United States and Yugoslavia locked horns today in a bitter diplomatic debate over whether Tito's government has enslaved and caused the death of American citizens.

The State Department charged Yugoslavia has thrown at least 165 into concentration camps, rented them out at forced labor without pay, shipped three to Russia, and permitted maltreatment fatal to as many as 10.

The Yugoslav charge d'affaires in Washington promptly countered with a press statement declaring that "under Yugoslav law, which is the only relevant law in this matter" the persons concerned are Yugoslav citizens.

Flat Denial

The statement denied flatly that any Americans are enslaved, or that slave labor conditions exist in Yugoslavia.

Dr. Sergej Makiedo, the Yugoslav charge d'affaires, conceded that the Tito government is detaining about 110,000 persons "of the German minority in Yugoslavia," and said this group included "those to whom the State Department referred in its press release."

But these persons had belonged to the Yugoslav equivalent of the German-American bond and had formed "Hitler's most effective fifth column in Yugoslavia," Makiedo said.

U. S. Government officials earlier had indicated that this country is not concerned only with the persons of German descent now in the Yugoslav camps.

They said estimates of the number of persons in Yugoslavia regarded by this country as American citizens run from 2,000 to 3,500. They estimated "80 to 90 per cent" would like to return to the United States.

These officials said they believed most of the persons claiming American citizenship in Yugoslavia are "in order" and would be eligible for United States passports if the Tito government gives them exit permits.

The committee in charge of the Lincoln speech anniversary includes David A. Tawney, Harry E. Deatrick, Jesse E. Snyder, Attorney William L. Meals and Arthur H. Shields. The flag pole committee includes Arthur Warman, Jesse Snyder, W. Preston Hull, Harry S. Deatrick, Henry T. Biddle and Attorney Meals.

Scouts Plan Joint Bicycle Contests

Plans for a joint Boy Scout bicycle contest in Arendtsville were arranged Friday evening at a meeting of committeemen of the Mummaburg and Arendtsville Boy Scout troops.

According to the two committees the scouts from Mummaburg's Troop 77 and Arendtsville's Troop 70 will conduct their joint troop bicycle contests on October 26.

The winners of the first three places in each of the contests will take part in the district bicycle contest to be held November 2 here in Gettysburg. According to the scoutleaders the street passing the fire house in Arendtsville will be roped off for the contest, for which the committeemen will act as officials.

The bike contest was termed by the committeemen of both troops as "a big step in the right direction to promote safety, skill, and enjoyment in the use of bicycles." The bicycle contests are being held throughout the Black Walnut district next Saturday under the sponsorship of the district.

Weddings

Eisenhart-Randall

Miss Catherine E. Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Randall, Littlestown, became the bride of Donald J. Eisenhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Eisenhart, York, in St. Aloysius' Catholic church, Littlestown, at a nuptial high mass this morning at 9 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. John H. Weber.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fogle, York, cousins of the bride, served as best man and matron of honor. Miss Betty Jo Kraber, York Haven, cousin of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. Ushers were James Randall, brother of the bride and Carl Eisenhart, brother of the groom.

The bride wore a dress of white satin brocade with a short train, and a fingertip veil. She carried a white prayerbook and a Rosary, a gift of the groom, topped with an orchid. The matron of honor and junior bridesmaid both wore chartrreuse gowns, and had headresses and bouquets to match. They were given crosses and chains by the bride.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at Schott's hotel for members of the immediate family. This afternoon a reception is being held at the home of the bride for members of the family and friends.

The bride is a graduate of the Littlestown high school, class of 1941. The groom was graduated from York Catholic high school in 1941, and attended Princeton university. He is shipping clerk at the Top Flight Tool Co., York. The bride was employed at the Littlestown Throwing company. Following a week's wedding trip, the couple will reside in York.

'FRISCO READIES BID AS UN SITE

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—San Francisco's glowing prospectus for setting up the world peace capital in her environs was ready for presentation today as a counter to New York city's newly launched official propaganda campaign to keep the headquarters of the United Nations here on a permanent basis.

As delegates poured in from 51 nations all over the world for the general assembly meeting, which opens next Wednesday in Flushing Meadow Park, San Francisco's revived hopes of becoming the headquarters some three to five years hence were in the hands of California Attorney General Robert Kenny.

The campaign to return the U. N. to the city where the U. N. charter was signed in the summer of 1945 was launched the day after New York city formally handed over the converted New York City building on the 1939-40 World's Fair grounds for the general assembly—with the officially expressed wish that this might become the permanent headquarters. The fair grounds is a former city dumping ground, now attractively landscaped.

New York offered the U. N. a 350-acre site in the grounds for its building center and said the headquarters could be built for $65,000,000.

All but forgotten in the midst of the tug-of-war between New York and San Francisco for the permanent headquarters is the fact that the headquarters commission, has selected five prospective sites of varying sizes up to 40 square miles in Westchester county, N. Y.

Eats Eight Steaks In Window Contest

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 19 (AP)—Two University of Iowa students sat down at a table inside a double display window of an Iowa City restaurant Thursday and while a crowd outside watched, many enviously, started eating steaks in a contest celebrating the end of price controls on meat.

An hour and 20 minutes later one of the students, John McKay, who weighs 250 pounds and is 6 feet four inches tall, had polished off eight steaks. The second contestant, Bill Mahone, of Clear Lake, Ia., had consumed six but with the time limit set at two hours and a class coming up, he conceded victory to McKay.

The restaurant furnished about 20 pounds of choice beef for the contest.

McKay, a junior from Cedar Rapids, gets a steak dinner for winning.

Kids Turn Tables On Grandfathers

Emporium, Pa., Oct. 19 (AP)—Grandfathers who boast about the distance they walked to school in their youth now hear their grandchildren tell how far they must ride.

"Fourteen Emporium high school students, who live in the First Fork valley in the extreme eastern end of Cameron county, think they're setting some sort of a record."

They travel 48 to 68 miles each day in their round-trip, a total of 240 to 340 miles per school week, and a grand total of 8,640 to 12,240 miles for the term. For the farthest out youngster, his daily trips to school amount, in two years' time, to a trip around the world.

Arlene Turner, one of the freshmen girls in the group, says: "I go to bed at 9 o'clock in order to get up at 6 to make the trip to school."

Field Storage Plan For Potatoes Told

Harrisburg, Oct. 19 (AP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today a loan program for emergency field storage of potatoes has been authorized for Pennsylvania to support the potato price where no permanent storage is available.

Bruce H. Whittenight, chief of the commodity loan section of the state Production and Marketing committee of the federal agency, said loans would be made until December 15 and that the department would take the potatoes off the farmers' hands if they were not sold by April 30, paying the difference between the loan and the fixed price.

The loan program, he said in a statement, will be limited to areas where permanent storage is insufficient. Emergency field storage may include barns, sheds, windows, banks or pits providing drainage is adequate and protection is provided from the elements, including freezing.

8,000,000 FANS SAW BIG LOOP BASEBALL

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Over 18,000 fans paid their way into the league baseball parks during the 1946 season with the New York Yankees establishing a new individual record by drawing 2,309,029 patrons, according to unofficial figures compiled by the Associated Press.

The grand total of both the American and National leagues was 18,704, an increase of 63 per cent over the 1945 total of 11,375,185.

The American league drew 9,421 while the National's turns clocked off 8,946,283. In 1945, the junior loop drew 6,002,366 and senior, 5,372,819.

Broke Old Record
Although they wound up in third place, the Yankees' mark broke the previous high of 1,485,166 established by the pennant winning 1929 Chicago Cubs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, runner-up to the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals in the National league pennant race, lured 1,796,155 customers through its gates, tops for a circuit.

Ten of the 16 teams drew more in one million paid admissions compared to five last season and none in 1944.

The Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns of the American and the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds of the National were the only teams that failed to break their previous attendance records.

Ben Chapman's hustling Philadelphia Phillies made the greatest increase in the National league to 1,452,445 while at Pittsburgh attendance was 759,117, up 135,719 from 45.

Tonight the Biglerville high football team will seek its first victory of the season when it is host to West York high on the Canner field at 8 o'clock.

West York, also looking for its initial win, has dropped six straight contests this season.

Coach Eugene Haas, in the hope of giving his outfit a winning punch, has announced several lineup changes will be made.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—College football probably is having its biggest season on record, but there still are some coaches who aren't satisfied with the game that brings in all the dough. . . . The other day Marquette's Frank Murray suggested a requirement of six defensive players on the line to match the seven-man line required for the offense. . . . Another suggestion comes from W. A. Alexander, Georgia Tech's venerable athletic director. He figures the whole rule book should be rewritten to straighten out all the amendments and exceptions and also figures the free substitution rule will be altered because "some coaches seem to be trying to mastermind the game out of existence."

COURTING DISASTER
(News item: Giants lease Phoenix, Ariz., auto court as spring training headquarters.)
H. Stoneham leased an auto court. For houses he was needing. At that the Dodgers did retort: "They won't get pinched for speeding."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
Word from Texas, possibly inspired by pessimistic coaches, is that "Texas doesn't have a great team." The same source, however, gives rave notices to Bobby Layne and Spot Collins and adds that the Longhorns' clash with Rice, "Probably the bestmanned team in the entire south" will settle the conference title. We'd still like to see an Army-Texas bowl game and a between-halves crying contest could be made an added attraction. . . . Tommy Richardson, eastern baseball league president, travels in his own airplane—which explains how Tommy gets around but now how he got round.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK
Lou Little: "If we play the way we played in the second half against Navy and in the second half against Yale, there's no reason why Columbia can't beat Army." . . . Half a loaf, eh?

DELONE GAINS 7-0 GRID WIN

Delone Catholic high won its third successive football victory Friday evening by defeating St. Matthew's Catholic high, of Conshohocken, 7-0, in a game played at McSherrystown.

The Squires scored in the third period. After securing the ball on their own 30 through a punt, Coach Waleski's lads reeled off four straight first downs through some nice running on the part of Small, Noel, Rider and Bunty. With the ball on the seven-yard stripe, Small went off-tackle for three yards and then Rider bucked through for the score. Rider also hit the line for the extra point.

St. Matthew's threatened but once. In the second period a fumble by Noel was recovered on the Delone 20. A first down was gained on the 10. The next play netted six yards but then the Squires braced and halted the next two plays for two yards loss on each occasion. An incomplete pass gave Delone the ball on the eight.

The Squires completely outplayed their opponents and rolled up 13 first downs to seven by St. Matthew's.

First Big Weekend For Hockey Circuit

(By The Associated Press)
The American Hockey League begins its first heavy week-end schedule of the season today with five games carded for tonight and four more Sunday evening.

Tonight's games feature battles for first place in both the eastern and western division of the circuit. Hershey Bears, eastern leaders, entertain the Providence Reds; the New Haven Ramblers invade the lair of the Pittsburgh Hornets. Cleveland's Barons clash with the runner-up Buffalo Bisons in the Cleveland.

The remaining two games on this evening's schedule find the St. Louis Flyers host to the twice beaten Philadelphia Rockets while the Springfield Indians and the Indianapolis Capitals collide at Springfield.

Penn State Given Edge Over Michigan

State College, Pa., Oct. 19 (AP)—Penn State's Nittany Lions were favored to rack up their third straight triumph today as they clashed with twice beaten Michigan State before an expected homecoming crowd of 20,000. The kickoff was set for 2 p. m.

The Lions, who whipped Bucknell and Syracuse in their first two games, hoped to atone for a 33-0 pasting they took from the Spartans last season at East Lansing.

Three Pennsylvanians were expected to be in the starting lineup of the visitors, including Warren Huey, Punxsutawney, captain and end; Bob McCurry, Lewistown, at guard, and John Pletz, of Turtle Creek, at tackle.

URGES ABSTINENCE

York, Pa., Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Ella B. Black, president of the Pennsylvania Woman's Christian Temperance union, says total abstinence is the only answer to the liquor problem. "We cannot endorse any activity or teaching which results in the acceptance of the use of beverage alcohol in any form or quantity," she told the union's convention last night.

The House of Representatives is composed of 435 members. It constitutes one of the three branches of our government. It is the sole bulwark between the people of our country and dictatorship. It has been referred to as "an anvil which has worn out many hammers."

The present House consists of:
Lawyers . . . 232
Business Men . . . 61
No. States . . . 2
Profession . . . 41
Teachers . . . 21
Bankers . . . 18
Farmers . . . 15
Publishers . . . 15
Labor . . . 1
Representatives . . . 4
This represents a cross-section of America.

Because of the seniority rule established in the House of Representatives, it is of primary importance to the people that they continue their Congressman in office.

The members most quoted in the press and on the radio are those holding important committee posts and are serving terms of from 10 to 30 years. There are approximately 100 such members.

The late Champ Clark, while Speaker of the House in 1916, said: "A man has to learn to be a Representative just as he must learn to be a blacksmith, a carpenter, a farmer, an engineer, a lawyer or a doctor. The best rule is for a district to select a man young enough to learn and to grow, with at least fair capacity, industry, honesty, energetic, sober and courageous, and keep him there so long as he discharges his duties faithfully and well. Such a man will gradually rise to high position and influence in the House."

After six years of service in the House of Representatives, Congressman Gross now has the seniority and experience that qualify him for important committee assignments. Furthermore, he is assured that when the House organizes next year he will be given a position on the important Committee on Agriculture. This will give the Congressional District more prestige than it has had for a number of years.

HOUSEWIVES BALK AT HIGH MEAT PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

Only a small supply of fresh meat appeared in most of the nation's butcher shops today but already there were indications many customers weren't going to pay the higher prices being asked for steaks, pork chops, ham and other cuts.

Despite a flood of livestock into markets after removal of price controls, packers said several more days would be needed to move even a "fair" supply of meat into retail outlets. But there was more meat in the country's butcher shops this week-end than for the last several weeks. And at much higher prices.

The American Meat Institute, representing the country's major packers, urged customers to "show around for the best buys" in meat and it appeared many housewives were heeding the advice.

Balk At High Prices
From cities across the country came reports of buyers' resistance to the soaring prices asked for meat. And in some instances dairy products. Ceiling prices on cattle had been $20.25 and on hogs $16.25. During the week the highest prices for cattle were a record $36 and $27.50 for hogs.

Reaction to $1.25 a pound steaks, 99 cent pork chops and 59 cent wieners ranged from "I'd starve before I'd pay that price" to remarks described by one market manager as "unprintable."

Some dealers, themselves, refused to buy meat, and in New Jersey the president of the state's Independent Butchers Association urged consumers to "strike" against meat purchases until prices come down "with-in reason."

Buyers' Strike
The rush of meat to markets was reflected in falling butter prices in Washington, D. C., and Omaha, Neb., but in Helena, Mont., housewives instigated a chain telephone call movement advocating buyers' strikes against butter prices of 89 cents to $1.00 a pound.

A two-cent milk price boost to 18 with him at Atlanta, accompanied him to his home. He will leave on October 26th for Camp Kilmer, N. J., where he expects to receive orders for overseas duty.

Mrs. Nan Pontius, Mrs. Cleve Hoke and Mrs. Jennie Guise, all of Baltimore, visited on Thursday with Miss Alice Kelly. Mrs. Pontius is remaining for several days with Mrs. Kelly while Mrs. Hoke and Mrs. Guise are spending some time with Mrs. Guise's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder, of near Fairfield.

The 21st Congressional District has sent many good men to Congress, but has never kept a man in office long enough to become a committee chairman. That is the only reason we have never had a chairman.

We Have Just Come Through A Bloody War that lasted for seven years with 30,000,000 casualties and a debt for us of $300,000,000,000, and it is still growing. The interest on our present debt is 20% greater than was the Federal Budget in 1929.

It is more than a year since the shooting stopped and now we find ourselves helplessly involved internationally and at home, bound by red-tape and weighed down by bureaucracy, graft and regimentation to the extent that it is impossible to get merchandise into legitimate channels of trade or the wheels of industry turning. All the while black markets flourish, prices rise, discontent grows, Communism takes root, and crime and disrespect for law and order increases.

Our only hope lies in a change in Administration. We need a strong government that will enforce laws and practice economy. Our people must be brought together so we can work together and redeem our American way of life. This must be our first order of business. Then we can better serve the world. We are entering an atomic age. Unless we act wisely we may destroy ourselves and the world.

The New Deal has proven its inefficiency in its corruption and greed for power. It has loaded the Federal payroll with more than 3,000,000 employees and now occupies office space outside federally-owned buildings totaling 222,000,000 square feet, equal to 111 times the size of Radio City.

To break it up we must elect a Republican Congress this fall, then we can elect a Republican President in 1948.

Seek To Treat Man Bitten By Mad Dog

Harrisburg, Oct. 19 (AP)—A man reportedly bitten by a mad dog last Saturday at Pocono lake, Monroe county, was sought today by health authorities of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Deputy Secretary of Health J. Moore Campbell said Monroe county health authorities had informed him the man was driving a 1934 automobile with a New Jersey license and that he had passed the information on to Dr. Lynn Mahafey, New Jersey commissioner of health.

Dr. Campbell said the dog which bit the man was found to have rabies and four other persons bitten at the same time have been given treatment. He said the man should have treatment within 10 days or two weeks but added "we have so little to go on." He was last seen driving away from Pocono lakes in the direction of Wilkes-Barre.

MEDAL FOR DR. LEWIS
Harrisburg, Oct. 19 (AP)—The medal of merit will be posthumously awarded to Dr. William Mather Lewis, the first state director of Selective Service, at ceremonies in Governor Martin's office October 21. Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, present state director, announced today.

cents a quart in Portland, Ore., prompted a similar telephone campaign among women's groups.

Typical consumer reaction to boosted meat prices was reported by various cities:

New York: Many butchers reported one out of three customers turning away from $1.00 roast beef and 75 cent hamburger. Customers weren't complaining enough, one market manager opined, saying "if more of them refused to buy we could get meat cheaper from the wholesalers and charge less."

Washington, D. C.: Butchers reported many buyers passing up 95 cent veal cutlets and 79 cent leg of lamb, explaining that they could not afford it.

Pittsburgh: An unrehearsed "strike" was reported against prices which the OPA said had risen 50 per cent since decontrol.

TEN YEARS AGO

Foreign Wars Veterans Elect: Officers were elected at the regular meeting of the Gettysburg Post No. 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wednesday evening in the post home, Hartley building, Carlisle street. Retiring Commander H. F. Steininger presided at the meeting.

All officers were elected without opposition. The new official staff follows: Commander, Clyde D. Berger; senior vice commander, Roy Mackley; junior vice commander, Lloyd Strausbaugh; chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Ludwig C. Mortensen; surgeon, Dr. Edgar A. Miller; judge advocate, H. F. Steininger; trustee for 18 months, Erle Deardorff, and quartermaster, Richard Gornley.

Balkans Hold Europe's Fate: "The Importance of the Balkans" was the subject of the illustrated lecture delivered by Dr. Michael Dorizas, professor in the department of geography of the Wharton school, University of Pennsylvania, when he addressed the Gettysburg college student body Friday morning in the Majestic theatre.

Doctor Dorizas is an internationally known globe trotter and lecturer. He was an official dignitary at the Lausanne peace conference in 1926.

New Child Singer Found: Deanna Durbin, 13-year-old film and radio singer of Hollywood, was regarded as a good operative bet for the future. She has an excellent soprano voice and her instructor, Andre de Segura, former "Met" baritone, believes it will be heard in opera.

Apply for License: A marriage license application was filed this morning at the office of the clerk of the courts by Ralph Edgar Michener, Harrisburg, and Alta F. Weimer, Gettysburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Weimer, Fourth street.

Lincoln Pupils Publish Paper: The first issue for the current school year of "The Lincolnian," monthly publication at the Lincoln school building, was distributed to the pupils at the school today. This issue is the second for the present staff, their first paper being published shortly before the close of school last year.

J. Melchoir Sheads and Miss Anna Mumper are faculty advisors. S. Maust is editor of the paper and associate editors are: D. Deardorff, W. Keefauver and I. Alexander.

Glowing Charcoal Causes $5,000 Fire at Catholic Church in Bonneauville: Damage estimated at nearly $5,000 resulted when fire destroyed the interior of the altar boys' sacristy of St. Joseph's Catholic church at Bonneauville, Friday morning.

The fire started in a metal cabinet where tapers, candles, quantities of charcoal and censers are stored. It is believed that a bit of glowing charcoal used in a service conducted in the church less than an hour before the blaze was discovered, caused the fire.

The Rev. Fr. Leo Krichten, rector, stated that the building and its contents were insured.

J. S. Sheets, 93, in Civil War at Age 20, Expires: Jacob (John) Sentman Sheets, 93, who enlisted for service in the Civil war at the age of 20, died Thursday evening at his home along the Biglerville road.

License Is Granted Biglerville Couple: A marriage license was granted recently in Hagerstown, Maryland, to Miss Anna Miller, daughter of J. D. Miller, Biglerville, and John Deardorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Deardorff, also of Biglerville.

Mr. Deardorff is a sophomore at Gettysburg college and a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Today's Talk

BACK TO SANITY

It is heartening to note that many of the fine successes in the theatre world of the past are being revived. These were clean, inspiring productions. I note also the republication of books that were so well worth while when published, many having gone to their rest with little applause.

There has been an epidemic of salacious sex books, plays bordering upon the vulgar, and movies produced to excite the wrong sets of youth response. And too little of an inspiring and soothing sort over the radio. We had our war nerves, whipped with fear and foreboding, what we now need is to have our peace nerves calmed, and invited into the realm of tranquility.

It's about time that we all get back to sanity and peaceful pursuits. I find my old books increasingly beneficial. Those that have stood the test of time, and which have proved their worth as consolers of the soul, Emerson, Thoreau, Mark Twain, Stevenson, Marcus Aurelius, the Bible, W. H. Hudson, David Grayson, and a host of others. We should get our excitement out of our work, and out of our pleasant recreations. The heart needs spiritual refreshment. A return to religion is a return to sanity and peace of mind.

Nature is the great consoler. She ever has hidden secrets that await the discovery of the hopeful and persistent needing a healed mind. And this mind of ours has been seriously and almost wantonly assailed by the tragic events of the past dozen years.

I am forever searching for consoling books that I can pick up and read and re-read, preferring them as a "night-cap." I have entire shelves of them, and always several within reach. I feel happier with them near. Books on nature, birds, trees, and short essays. Nothing is more inspiring than to read a good biography of a great man or woman.

We need to rout fear from our minds, and to become unafraid. We need to get in tune with the Infinite, and to cultivate a calm manner of approach to all the problems of life. How peaceful and beautiful are the colorful leaves of Autumn, as they fall silently to the earth, nourishing it for another year, yet unborn!

PARENT DREAD

When I was a little lad,
This dread my mother had:
There would come the time when I'd Want a bicycle to ride.

Later, when some years had flown,
With a youngster of our own,
Well we knew the time not far
When he'd want to drive a car.
So, with mothers all today:
Often this they're heard to say:
"It is certain, by and by,
He will want to learn to fly."

Wonder, in the years ahead,
Will the mothers live in dread
That their boys will very soon
Want to rocket to the moon?

the week-end in Atlantic City.

C. B. Dougherty has returned from Atlantic City where he attended an international convention of creamery men.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartley, Barlow street, spent the week-end in West Chester.

Miss Margaret Tate, Baltimore street, and Miss Mabel Gettler, Littlestown, are on a ten days' motor trip through the New England states and Canada.

Mrs. Arthur Hessin, of Toronto, Canada, is visiting Mrs. J. P. Dalbey, Baltimore street.

Included in a group of county residents who returned Friday from New Castle where they had attended the state Sunday school convention were: Harry Baker, president of the Adams county organization; Mrs. Earl J. Bowman, Mrs. Edward J. Zinkand, Miss Mildred Coshum, Miss Ruth Rothaupt, Mrs. Norman W. Storrick, Mrs. Mervin U. Bream, the Rev. Spencer W. Augst, T. J. Winebrenner, Miss Jean Thomas, the Rev. George H. Berkheimer, Mrs. Parker Lerew, Edgar Howe, the Rev. A. R. Longanecker, Charles Little and James Fisher.

Former M. E. Choir Director Honored: Milton R. Rimmel, who recently resigned as director of the choir of the Methodist Episcopal church, after serving 23 years in that position, was honored Friday evening when members of the choir were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunning Idle, Baltimore street.

During the evening, Mrs. Idle, Mr. Rimmel's successor, presented the former director with a leather billfold and key container as a token of appreciation of his service. Twenty persons were present.

Hold Taffy Pull: Mrs. Kenneth D. Bream, Fairfield, was the hostess at a taffy pull held recently at her home.

General Douglas MacArthur was the youngest man ever to serve as superintendent of West Point.

Riding with Russell

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S. & E.

To the pessimist life a wheel is full of disappointments. He declares that nothing ever comes off easily except the horn button.

Wrong Kind of Ride

Because many people like a more buoyant type of ride they do not trouble themselves when the shock absorbers fail to do a good job of controlling spring action. But they pay a penalty for the pleasure of bobbing around. This kind of baby carriage ride is especially tough on tires, as you can see by noting how the front wheels lean and pivot when you rock the front of the car up and down. Especially on a rough road are the tires liable to those excessive movements which are a close cousin to a shimmy. You can save rubber and avoid a host of troubles by seeing to it that the shocks are in condition to provide a normally level ride at all times.

On the Accessory Counter

Fender "bumpers" are the latest in accessory circles. They attach to the fenders or running board and signal the driver by means of their own peculiar noise if the car is too close to the curb or another parked car. The latest windshield defroster fan is powered by engine vacuum. There's a new drain valve for radiators. It replaces the annoying one on your car and offers easier draining. A quarter turn does the trick, and no tools are required. Several companies are making portable freezer cases for use in holding natural or dry ice on trips. You can practically deep freeze game and fish.

Worth A Trial

When the windshield wipers slow down it may be that their blades merely press too heavily against the glass, but it would be better while to figure that the motor is a bit sluggish. Just take a long screwdriver and tap the wiper motor control box while the engine is running (car outdoors) and while the wipers are in action. If the wiper motor's vacuum valve is a bit off this will often relocate it and be quite as effective in speeding up action as if the job were taken apart.

If this doesn't do the trick, of course, better have the unit serviced.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"Much of the trouble that develops in the distributor can be traced to poor connections and to bad grounds. The former permits voltage to build up too high, and thus burn the points, while the latter will cause pitting of the points."

"Bad grounds are especially undesirable for this weakens the spark. Better make it a rule to check over the distributor and the whole ignition system regularly. Examine all parts for evidences of rust, dirt, looseness or condensation. Painting these exposed parts with waterproof solution is a good idea. The inside of the distributor cap may be included in this treatment, but don't paint the contact segments and take care not to fill up any vents in the cap."

Somebody Set Him Straight

They tell me he drives in about every other day, always with the same complaint. One of the rear spring shackles squeaks so he can't stand it much longer. They tell him that penetrating oils have a petroleum base and for that reason are fatal to a rubber shackle, but he still insists that they give the old shackle a squirt or two anyhow. For a time it seemed to be doing a job, but recently the noise is getting worse and the periods between treatments are becoming shorter. The chances are that this shackle has now seen its best days, but had he let them squirt brake fluid over it at the start of the trouble everything would have been silent and serene. It might even be worth a try now.

Bumpers Tell A Story

Maybe you too have noticed it, but I have yet to see a marred temporary wooden bumper on one

as the real thing in metal. So owners just don't take as many chances. It goes back to a prophecy made many years ago to the effect that if cars were not equipped with bumpers there would be fewer accidents. Somehow too many drivers let a sense of security lull them into trouble.

Maybe You Knew
That in washing a car your best way of avoiding streaks is to sponge off the soap as quickly as possible. That electric fuel pumps have been found effective in overcoming vapor lock.

That the newest way to operate a vacuum type windshield wiper is via a vacuum attachment on the oil pump.

For Safety's Sake
It's a good rule not to use the far focus of the headlights when approaching the crest of a hill. The headlights will blind any on-coming driver enough as they are, especially if your car is heavily loaded and the sagging rear end points the headlights higher than normal.

In descending hills it is never wise policy to have the lights set for the far focus because should you have to shift into a lower gear for better control you may have to use the left foot for declutching just about the moment you may need to touch the dimmer switch. Two jobs are one too many in a pinch.

In cases where the spark plug hole threads have been stripped in an aluminum cylinder head it would be worth while trying a simple idea that has been tried in other fields quite successfully. Just cut a strip of light steel from a tin can and wrap it around the spark plug. Insert the plug in the hole of the head, pressing down while using a wrench to turn it. The plug will start to cut new threads in the steel. Sometimes it is more effective to line the hole with the tin and then screw in the plug. Use a new gasket with the plug of course.

Q. There is something wrong with the vacuum shifting arrangement on my car. The gears stay in first or third all the time. A mechanic has checked the solenoid circuit, but it is working all right. W. M. B.

A. I think you'll find a leak in the vacuum system. A very simple cause of this trouble is having the engine idle too fast. Have you checked this?

Q. The new fan belt on the car is slipping already even though I made sure to see that it was extra tight when installed. Is it true that the new belts are not as good as formerly? B. H. E.

A. You should not have any trouble with the new belts if you will observe the good old rule about not stretching them by over tightening them at the start.

Q. There's quite an annoying noise in the fuel pump of my car. I have definitely traced the noise to this unit, but have been unable to decide what would cause it. Pressure seems to be normal, for the engine runs all right even at higher speeds in second on steep hills. I have been told that the noise will disappear in time, but it seems to be getting worse. K. McB.

A. You'll probably find that the rocker arm or the pin is worn.

Q. For some reason I am getting considerable wear on the edges of the tire treads. The front end is in excellent condition. Have even checked for a bent steering knuckle or knuckle arm. Pressures are correct for the weight of the car and the load carried. All tires are new. I am getting some of this wear on the rear tires as well. Wm. L. L.

A. I wonder if by any chance you are driving faster on curves. This will cause tread edge wear.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, Hartford, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply.

FUTURE CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT HINGES ON VOTE

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Here's what it would mean if the Republicans were to win control—a majority of the votes—in either the house or Senate or both Houses of Congress.
The elections in November are expected to be tight. The Republicans say they have a good chance of taking over Congress. The Democrats have a majority in both House and Senate since 1932.
Since a bill must be passed by a majority vote of both Houses before it can become law, a Republican House could block anything passed by a Democratic Senate. Or, just the other way around.
So a Republican majority in one House could tie the President Truman's wishes in knots. A Republican majority in both Houses could pretty well run the government show.
Would Head Committees
Even though Republicans controlled Congress, they might not always vote solidly together. Some might join forces with the minority Democrats at time to defeat the wishes of the Republican leaders.
(Southern Democrats repeatedly since 1932 have teamed up with the Republicans to defeat certain aims of the majority Democratic leaders.)
A Republican majority in the House would mean:
The Republicans would elect the head man of the House.
Republicans would become chairmen of all committees. Members of the majority party are always committee chairmen. Democrats are chairmen now. These jobs are considered plums. They carry prestige and power.
Besides the committee chairmanships, the Republicans would have a lot of patronage to hand out to Republicans, or friends of Republicans. Patronage, in this case, means paying jobs.
Need 26 More Seats
Here's what the Republicans need in order to win control:
There are 435 seats in the House. The Republicans will have to pick up 26 more seats. All 435 seats are at stake in this election since all Representatives run every two years.
(The Democrats now have 237 seats. Two representatives of minor parties are in the House. And there are four vacancies there.)
There are 96 seats in the Senate. A majority would be 49. The Republicans now have 39. They'll need to add 10 more seats. The Democrats now have 56 Senators. There is one minor party member.
This year, because of four vacancies, 36 Senate seats are at stake.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Harold E. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Hoffman, has been on leave from the U. S. Merchant Marine and is spending some time at the home of his parents.
The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Myers has been named Phyllis Jean.
A group of Long Island friends have been entertained this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sedlack, R. 2.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webb near Baltimore, who have returned from a stay in Florida, visited during the past week with Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter. Mr. Shetter is recuperating after a major operation at the Warner hospital.
The local Lions club has scheduled Ladies' Night for Thursday evening, October 24, at the annex of Zwingle Reformed church when the Rev. Nevin E. Smith, pastor of Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, will be guest speaker and music will be furnished by a group of students of the Hanover school taught by George W. Moul, a member of the local Lions.

James Stauffer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stauffer, Hanover, formerly of here, and a grandson of Mrs. Daisy Resser, has enlisted in the Army Air Corps and is now training in Texas. He is a graduate of the last class of Hanover high school.
Homecoming services are scheduled for Trinity Lutheran church on Sunday, October 27.
Mrs. George Spahr, near town, is suffering with a fractured arm sustained in a fall down a stairway.
Sgt. Paul A. Ream, stationed at Middletown, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ream, Paradise township.
These members of Trinity Lutheran church have recently been formed into committees by the pastor, the Rev. Snyder Allenman: Church ceiling—Robert Jacobs, Raymond J. Jacobs, Maurice Felsner; evangelism—Herbert Myers, Mrs. Charles L. Gentzler, John R. Wisler, Edward R. Reynolds, Gerald E. Krout; and Youth—Ira E. Lobaugh, Mrs. Verne Y. Brandt, Charles L. Gentzler, Miss Beulah E. Wentz and Miss Gloria Spangler.
Mrs. Paul Price spent a day in York during the week.
The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Myers, near town, has been named Thomas Earl. Mrs. Myers who has been in poor health for some time, is reported much improved.
Mrs. R. H. Mummert and son, Ron, with Miss Mary Baker, spent a day in Lancaster during the week.
Carl I. Sinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sinner, York, formerly of here, who is in the army and has been stationed in the west, has been on furlough at his home and visited this week in East Berlin.

'INCH' PIPELINES BEING OFFERED FOR SALE BY WAA

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Despite a bitter inter-agency policy conflict, the War Assets Administration will go ahead with its own plan for disposing of the $145,800,000 "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" pipe lines from Texas to the east coast.
A ranking official who disclosed this privately today also told a reporter that WAA's original plan to have a "special advisory council" representing interested government agencies pass on the sale had collapsed.
Now bids for the giant petroleum lines simply will be reviewed by WAA's own recently organized Real Property Disposal Board. And the award will be made subject only to Justice Department anti-trust clearance.
Basic Controversy
The basic behind-the-scenes controversy is whether the lines are to be restored to service as petroleum carriers or converted to use as natural gas lines.
The WAA recently appointed the inter-agency committee to review the 16 bids it had received for purchase of the lines. These included some proposals to use them for petroleum and others for conversion to a natural gas system.
The committee learned when it assembled, however, the official said, that it was expected to function within the policy already laid down by WAA's predecessor, the Surplus Property Administration. That policy, laid down in a report to Congress in January called for sale to a private bidder for use as oil lines, if that was possible.
The Interior Department, reportedly favoring use of the lines for natural gas, withdrew from the advisory group, refusing to be bound by the policy limits which WAA had set, the official said. Later the Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Power Commission and the representatives of the army and navy withdrew in order to be similarly free from any advance policy commitments.
cently spent several days at Aberdeen, Md. where her husband, Lt. Hershey, is stationed. Lt. Hershey recently accompanied their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Smith, to the Mechanicsburg home of another relative, Baird Hershey, and family, where the party were guests.
Saturday, November 2, is the day scheduled by the local Lions club for their annual Halloween parade. In case of inclement weather, the parade will be postponed until Monday, November 4. Cash prizes will be awarded for costume effects.
Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Smith recently entertained at a family dinner party when the guests included their daughter, Miss T. Ruth Smith, who has been teaching chemistry at the high school at Prince Frederick, Md., and Mrs. Charles I. Rosser, Claremont, N. H., who has been visiting the Edgar and William Smith families.

ALLOW 20 DAYS IN TAXI CASE
Harrisburg, Oct. 19 (AP)—Judge William M. Hargest, in Dauphin county court, gave the Public Utility Commission 20 days to answer a mandamus suit filed by the G. I. Taxicab association of Philadelphia, asking immediate action on their application before the commission for a permit to operate cabs in Philadelphia.
The jurist fixed the time for filing an answer after Joseph A. Palmer, attorney for the association, asked the court Thursday to issue an order requiring the commission "to immediately act" or explain why it should not.
In its petition to the court the association noted that hearings on the application for a permit began in November, 1945, and ended on March 14, 1946. The petition further states that the commission "has refused and continues to refuse to act x x x although full and sufficient time has elapsed since the conclusion of the hearings."
The petition further added that Louis Israel, president of the association, has made "frequent demands" for action without success.
Israel, and several members of the association, broke into a closed meeting of the commission on Monday to voice their latest protest at what they termed unwarranted delay.

Wife To Hang For Husband's Murder
Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Evelyn MacClean Dick, 26, was under sentenced Friday to die on the gallows next January 7 for the torso murder of her husband, who had threatened to divorce her. She plans to appeal.
Justice F. H. Barlow of the Ontario supreme court ignored a jury recommendation for mercy in sentencing the pretty, brunette housewife to hang. The body of her husband, John Dick, 40, was found on Hamilton mountain last March, with head and limbs missing.

Truman To Speak At UN Assembly

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Truman will address the opening session of the United Nations assembly in New York October 23.

The announcement followed a White House conference in which Mr. Truman congratulated Secretary of State James F. Byrnes for what he called a "most excellent" job at the recently concluded Paris peace conference.

Presidential Press Secretary C. R. Ross quoted Mr. Truman as having thus described Byrnes' work in Paris:

Chapter 2

Suddenly the noise of a key in the bed room door stiffened him. He thought, this is what I've really been waiting for. He turned to face the doorway. It was a small doorway but even so the man who loomed in it was a big man, taller and broader of shoulder than Niel. His brilliant blue eyes seemed to be recording for all time exactly how Niel looked at that precise moment. Niel thought, he looks at me as if he knew me but I've never seen him before.

Returning his steady look, Niel marvelled that such a man was his captor.

"Where am I?" he asked.

"I can't tell you. . . I suppose you are feeling out adrift."

"I feel like a suspended soul," answered Niel dryly. "Do you know who I am?"

The man grinned at the tone of his voice. "You are Niel Francis Dana, a captain in the Intelligence Service of the American army of occupation, son of the late Francis Dana and of Mrs. Cindra Dana of New York, graduate of . . . but shall I go on?"

Niel grinned: "I just wanted to make sure you had the right guy."

Up till now he had been trying to convince himself that they had made a mistake. "How long will I be here?"

"That depends on people, on a number of people. You better use this shaving water before it gets cold. Will you pull out that stool please."

Niel had scarcely been aware of the tray the man held—a steaming jug, razor and towels. As he bent to set the tray on the stool Niel felt a wild impulse to rush him but he restrained himself and when the man straightened their eyes met.

Niel knew his intention had been read and he turned away to the basin conscious of an odd expression in the man's gaze. Again he thought, he acts as if he knows me. Maybe it was an illusion, a trick of the man's personality.

Suddenly the man took Niel by the shoulder, his eyes flaming blue into his face.

"Never rush any of them," he whispered "like you almost did me. . . don't give any of them the excuse to shoot you."

Niel whispered quickly: "Are you on my side?" But the man's hand dropped from his shoulder.

"I'm warning you . . . that's all." Abruptly he turned away and pulling the enamel heater from the corner busied himself lighting it.

Still on his knees adjusting the flame he pointed to a glass on the tray.

"There's some mouth-wash."

"Just what I need, an ether hang-over is a new experience for me."

"Do you still feel nauseated?" Niel admitted: "A little."

"I'll bring something with the tea, say in half an hour."

"Make it an hour." He wanted a little time to think before more of this overwhelming personality was projected on him. When he was at the door Niel stopped him. "What shall I call you?"

"Conrad."

Niel eyed him steadily: "Is it Herr Conrad or Herr Doctor Conrad?" Conrad was forced to laugh at his boyish slyness.

"You have a quick ear, Capt. Dana."

When Conrad had gone he pressed a hand across his eyes. . . did he just imagine the man had looked at him strangely? But what difference would it make, he's not on my side, he reminded himself.

He felt a little better when he was dressed in his uniform and smoking his pipe. This time the view from his window brought a calming pleasure and his eyes lingered on the expanse of white snow transparently clear, luminous even in the shadows of the trees. He raised the window and breathed it in. Then he heard music, music like that of a mechanical toy, a carefree, jingling sweetness. Some one's radio turned too loud, he thought.

He shut the window and opened it from the top and though it stuck a few inches from the top he was satisfied. He was still standing there when Conrad came in with the tea tray which he set on an ebony table near the fireplace.

"What mountains are they?" Niel hopped to catch him off guard.

"Well they are not the big rock candy mountains," grinned Conrad. "Drink this brandy, it will settle your stomach."

Niel took the glass over to the window because he felt uneasy under Conrad's watchfulness. The glass was so fragile he could easily splinter it by pressure of his fingers and his nerves felt tense enough to do it. Then he gulped the brandy; its fiery warmth was what he needed. Slowly he went to the table and sat down in the chair Conrad had pulled out for him.

"Have you had a happy life, Mr. Dana?" Niel looked up at him to see if he was joking but he wasn't.

He answered slowly: "It was happy. . . apart from the war it was happy." Then he realized that they both had used the past tense and a twinge of fear disturbed him; not a physical fear. When he glanced up Conrad was watching him intently but before their eyes met he turned away to the bed, picked

The date set for this production is Friday, November 22, in the high school auditorium. The play is being directed by E. M. Gruver.

TB Tests

On Tuesday afternoon the East Berlin students saw a movie on the evils of tuberculosis. During the week of November 4, freshmen, those who did not receive it last year, prospective athletes, and last year's reactors will be given the T.B. test. This work is done free of any cost to students, as part of the County Tuberculosis society's program to test all students in the area. If any child should react, a free X-ray will be made of the child's chest. About 150 students are expected to submit to the test.

Dr. R. D. Scafford, director of special education in Adams county, recently spent several afternoons in the East Berlin schools administering tests, and conducting psychological clinics.

All East Berlin teachers attended the Southern District convention at Lebanon on Friday afternoon and evening. A short session of school was held after which pupils were sent home for the day.

up the dressing gown and slippers and headed for the clothes closet. "That's not necessary," said Niel sharply, "I can put them away myself."

Conrad laughed good-naturedly: "When you feel less strange."

"You are a doctor, aren't you?" "What makes you so sure?"

"You're a perfect bedside manner," Conrad only laughed at his sarcasm.

While he ate Conrad said quietly, "You will dine downstairs this evening with some one who will interest you if you can overlook a certain oddity."
